- Traveling by plane was always fun until the TSA created the 3-1-1 rule on liquids and gels, evoking frustrations and aggravation before the trip ever begins. Travelers now can breathe a sign of relief with the Clear Bag System toiletry case from 3-1-1 Travel Bag. The reusable bag, which is TSA-compliant to meet the carry-on rule, delivers passenger confidence and peace of mind. Complete with innovative airless pumps to house travelers' own personal toiletries, the Clear Bag System kit minimizes waste and mess by keeping the precious potions safe and secure during flight. The versatility and sleekness of the bag allows travelers to carry the Clear Bag System long after they've reached their destination. Without sacrificing fashion, travelers can tote the Clear Bag from carry-on luggage to handbag or briefcase without feeling embarrassed or limited. You can't get that from a plastic kitchen bag! The Clear Bag System is available in multiple styles beginning at $24.95 by visiting www.clearbagsystem.com. And, just in time for Valentine's Day, the Clear Bag System is getting a "love-ly" makeover with the fun polka-dot collection available in pink and black
